“Heartfelt condolences to the family of Alvin Payne. Alvin was perhaps my best friend in high school and a good friend for many years through college and beyond. We drifted apart over time, as life would have it, but he was always on my mind. Among the many good memories I have is while in college we were about to pledge different fraternities, and neither of us could get the other to change so we could be in the same frat. It was quite an episode. (Back then rivalries between these were not helpful). I separately remember the persuasion campaign I waged to try to get Alvin to join me at the AU School of Business after finishing LeMoyne-Owen College. Andrea had convinced me to come to Atlanta and I was trying to compel Alvin to do the same, and get an MBA. He wasn't having it! He said "I'm done with school!" He had family concerns and entrepreneurial interests, and I understood, but I really regretted not being able to sway his thinking. Rest in peace, Alvin.
