“ Today, a client came in with you as a referral. When I saw your name I got excited to catch up and share a good laugh. Before I could call to tell you "how bad your dominoe game was..." the lady said you went on to Glory. I thought she was had the wrong person. I refused to believe it until now... We were just talking about my wife being pregnant and your medication.

I'm gonna miss our "Ribs and Dominoes"... I'm gonna miss the tall tale gangster stories. I would often visualize you flying around with a cape on saving Memphis. A Bible in one hand and a paint brush in the other. I 'm gonna miss you convincing me to re-paint the world.

I ll continue to look after "Sky-Watcher". I will remind my son how you painted his ceiling to look like clouds... so he could "look to where his help came from". I hope God Blessed your soul my friend. As you warned me, I will try not to change. Please give Mother Bracie a Hug from me.
