

Cyrus Feild

June 26, 1950 - December 6, 2024

Cyrus Wesley Feild, Jr., affectionately known to friends and family as Bubba, was the cherished only son of Alice and Cyrus Feild, Sr. who grew up in a bustling household filled with the lively presence of his five beloved sisters. Despite facing the challenges of being legally blind, Cyrus navigated his neighborhood with an adventurous spirit, often seen riding his bicycle with remarkable confidence. He possessed a unique talent for repairing and building bicycles, turning his passion into a source of joy for those around him. Cyrus's infectious sense of humor brightened the lives of everyone he encountered, leaving laughter and warmth in his wake. His generous heart knew no bounds; he devoted himself to helping others in any way he could, earning him deep respect and affection within his community. Cyrus's legacy continues through his beloved sister, Dorothy Feild Jones, as well as a multitude of nieces and nephews who will forever hold his memory close to their hearts.
