

Linda Faye Robinson

May 14, 1949 - February 1, 2026

Linda Faye Robinson was born on May 14, 1949, in Memphis, Tennessee. Linda accepted Christ in her life at an early age. A graduate of Mitchell High School, Linda continued her knowledge of learning many trades of sales and entrepreneurship of clothes, cars and baking. Linda worked in retail, early childcare and later in life retired from Memphis Mental Healthcare where she worked with adolescents. Linda enjoyed cooking, not only for her family but for everyone. She loved to see everyone smiling as they enjoyed delicious meals and baked goods. Shopping was Linda's hobby. She could shop every day and all day long. If it was not on sale or she didn't bargain the salesperson down, then she would let you know it was not a good buy. Linda would share her talents of caring for people by reaching out to various outreach ministries and community groups and assisting with feeding, clothing, and praying for whomever needed assistance. She would visit the sick and bring goods with her. If you made a visit to her home, Linda made sure you did not leave empty handed. She had a very kind heart for giving. Linda tragedy lost her earthy journey due to a house fire on February 1, 2026. Linda leaves beautiful memories to be cherished by her son, Eric Robinson; one grandson, William M. Robinson, two sisters, Marjorie Thornton and LaWare Harris; two brothers, Charles Walls (Roberta) and Robert Hudson; one aunt, Alice Brown and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins and friends. Linda was proceeded in death by her mother Rubie M. Hudson, her husband, William J. Robinson, her daughter, Stacy Robinson, a brother Clifton L. Hudson, two sisters, Virginia L.

Brown and Artie M. Lyons.

“ Aunt Faye, I remember so many times we'd visit you and you'd have these huge pots or pans of food and cakes or pies for all to indulge. I honestly cannot remember any time that you ever cooked or baked a small amount of anything. huge pots and trays of food. Oh my you loved to cook and gift something for everyone. You will be missed. May you rest well for eternity. Hug my mom when you see her. Love you to infinity. Valerie.
