Munn-Banks, affectionately known to her husband as “Baby Cakes” completed her life’s journey with her family close by her side.

As a child, she was quiet and obedient to her parents. She possessed an humble spirit but had a curious, creative and inventive mind. She attended, as a child, Cummings Elementary School, Lincoln Junior High School and graduated from Southside High School, Memphis, Tennessee. She later went on to earn a degree in accounting and finance at State Technical Institute of Memphis (now Southwest Tennessee Community College, Memphis, Tennessee). She was also involved with her husband on the political scene where she served as an executive board member with the Shelby County Democratic Party and served as a board member with the Shelby County Democratic Club. She also served as a deputy registrar in Memphis and Shelby County. She was honored with many certificates from the State Senate, from the State House of Tennessee, and also on the local level of Memphis and Shelby County for her works in the political parties. She supported the ministry with her mother and aunts at Bethel AME Church of Memphis until the Lord’s Spirit sent her to Pure Holiness Institutional Church of God in Christ, Memphis, Tennessee, where she served faithfully as church secretary and as the pastor's wife until her death. She will be missed.

“ Rhonda was friend to all and an efficient treasurer for the Old Hickory Hills Neighborhood Association. Her contributions and loyalty will be missed but not forgotten. We all know that absent from the body is present with the LORD. We will miss you and may your family have joyful memories as we say farewell to our good and faithful servant.

When I first met her at the Post Office she was Rhonda Jackson. She always had a cheerful smile, pleasant and charming personality, and was a pleasure to work with. She became and remained one of the best friends I ever had. Will never forget her. My blessings to her family
